God's Spirit Poured Out: Joel 2:28-29 I will pour out my Spirit on all people. Your sons and daughters will prophesy, your old men will dream dreams, your young men will see visions. Even on my servants, both men and women, I will pour out my Spirit in those days. (NIV)

God's Economy

The world's economy is facing an economy meltdown. The recent US elections demonstrated that the economy is the number one concern for most people in America and the seemingly the world. People are losing their savings, retirement funds, and even their houses. Where is God in the midst of this shaky world economy? Does He care, is He sleeping, or has the market caught God off guard? Why is God allowing so many people, especially those who are Christians, to suffer with such a devastated financial ordeal? After all, doesn't the earth and it's economy belong to God since he made heaven and earth? Certainly with a flick of his finger God can rain down money from heaven to feed and sustain his people in this wilderness economy. Yet we are reminded that sometimes God's way are not like our ways of doing things. And yes, the fundamentals of God's economy are sound. Thailand suffered an economic meltdown in 1997 and is also being effected by this current crisis that comes to kill, steal and destroy people livelihood, finances and lives. In the midst of these turmoil times, it is reported that 7 more churches were started in 2008 thanks in part to a church grant given to strengthen God's economy in Thailand. Perhaps, if you examined your own church you will see that instead of a bearish decrease in Christian growth, that in fact, God's economy has been very bullish and increasing its profit margin of adding people to the Kingdom of God. God's economy, unlike our earthly economy, has a surplus of riches that continually flow from heaven to earth. We can change our perspective and focus on God's economy, which can serve as a stimulus package to help our earthly economy better than any cash incentive or government bailout plan. Reduce wasteful spending, but don't reduce investing your time and money in God's economy. It's the only market that guarantees a profitable return at all times.

The Vision: Unique Opportunities

Dream Evangelism

Help people achieve their God inspired goal of "living the dream." This project focuses on Bible training and development. We partner with leaders regarding discipleship and multiplication of new, not already established, churches.

Support Evangelism

Consists of two sections:
1. Faith Evangelism
Supporting the direction of Vision 7 by "persistent praying," which is vital to this ministry hearing from God to work wisely.
2. Love Evangelism
Supporting the work by "purposeful giving" of only $76 once in 2009.

Green Evangelism

Don't be misinformed! God loves people and cares about the earth. This project will focus on serving people as well as taking care of God's planet. It is a unique opportunity in "making a difference" in promoting a cleaner, safer world while helping others achieve their dreams.
